JOCKEY CLUB IS VERY SLOW

If They Should Get Rejustatement the Chances for Securing Good Boys at Potomac Tracks Will Be Very Slim-How Local Sports Feel About the Victory of Requital.

The talk of the day resterday among the local horsemen was the winning of the Futurity by Requital. Of course, the fact that he was badly cut down while on the way to the post acounted largely for his defeat. He is such a grand looking animal and has so easily defeated the best two-year-olds, with the exception of Hastings, that the race was mought to bealmost at his mercy.

It is very doubtful new that he could have won under my conditions. Requital has shown himself to be a colt of such high quality and possessed of such a rare turn of speed that he should win the same race ver again.
The next best horse, however, seems to be the Western representative, Crescendo, Many horsemen tank that he should have con the money. His rider, Carr, made his nove on him too soon. If he had waited antil near the finish and moved up with squard he might have had a fighting chance at the finish for the money.

That he is a grand colt was proven by his splendid race under the whip. There is ome talk of a match race between some of the best two year-olds with the other Western coll, Ben Brush, as a starter. This could make a great race, and horsemen all over the country would take almost as much interest in it as they did in the Fu-

The fact that licenses have been issued to Congdon and Duffy, two of the outlaw track boys, allowing them to ride on the Jockey Club tracks has given the other boys who have made similar applications cesh hope that they will soon be allowed

Ham, Murphy, Washburn and several others have had their applications on Tile for some time, but in this, like many other things, the stewards of the Jorkey Club take their own awset time. ### HELPED OUT BY ST. LOUIS Defeat of the Browns Kept the Senators in Tenth Place.

What the Past Week Has Brought Forth in Changes in the League Percentage Table.

The continued poor play of the St. Louis Browns is the only reason the Washington team remains in tenth place. During the week just past the Senators played eight games, managing to win only one, and losing-the balance. Their percentage dropped down to .330, a loss of nineteen

The team did not put up a good article of ball. The men failed either to support the pitcher properly, or else they were unable to hit the ball, when how were Becessary.

The umpire, it is true, had a share in the defeats, but in nearly every case the cause of downfail was directly due to bad play-

White this was going on the Browns also lost, and, of course, they did not make much headway toward closing up the gap which separates the two teams, although the Von der Ahe aggregation gained three points on the local club.

Baltimore has been playing a great game, keeping up a pace that is astonishing. They started the week with a percentage of 615, five points below the Clevelanda To-day they are tie for first place, with 638 points, They have had several had scores in the six games, and on two occasions secured victory on the veriest Tebeau's Clevelanders did fairly well quadering they are away from home. They are fast and keep hustling from start to finish Their percentage was belief along by reason of a decision of the board of directors of the League over a protested game with St. Louis, whereby they were given the game and St. Louis credited with another game lost.

By this deal they are tie with Baltimore; otherwise they would be six points less.

Boston has made a sport, having had the Kentucky contingent to battle with, and is now in fourth place, with a percentage of 561, while last Monday they were class pincher. The fact that Corbett never in seventh place, worse off by eighteen

Sliding down the ladder is a good way to describe the Pirates during last week. Although they retained third place in the race they lost sixteen points. They wontwood of thesix gamesphyed. The Phillies were fourth at one time during the week, but on Saturday night were a fair fifth, having lost three and wen four games, their percentage now being 556, a gain of only two points. The Briderrooms started at eighth place and landed in sixth. They won six games, losing none, and gained twenty-nine points. They are far away from their rivals across the river, and it is extremely doubtful if the Gothammes will catch them again. Capt. Arson and his Colts are on a summer toboggan, and it now looks, after they leave Washington, as if there will be nothing to stop the slide in the East. East

Monday they were fifthen the race, with a percentage of 556. To-day finds them in eventh place, with a has of twelve points. The Cincinnatis are also riiding down pace. Starting the week in fourth place they wound up on the eighth round, and it is not likely that they will go may lower. They lost four sames and eighteen points. They have been materially weakened by the disablement of several regular men.

The once great Giants are still the Wash ingtons nearest rivals on the upper side of the tenth round, and it is 100 to 1 that they will never be higher than ninth. They took a brace on the weak St. Louis and Pittsburgs and won four games, losing two. Their percentage was increased ten points.

The Colonels were not only weak, but played in the hardest kind of luck. lost seven games out of eight played, and, of course, their percentage decreased nine points. Nevertheless they are game, and Manager McCloskey is putting more vim in them by donning a uniform and going into the coacher's box.

Local Sports Have Not Much of a Line on the Men-Both Have Fairly Good Records.

Local sporting men are new looking forward with interest to the contest at the Eureka Chao on Thursday night next between Billy Dooly and Jack Daly. Booly is not very well known in this vicining, but his record is a good one, and the battle should prove a first class one in all restlects Daly's easy victory over Joe Burnett at the Eureka Club is the only line that local sports have on him, and it is not worth much, as the fight was very much of a farce. Daiy put a crimp in Mike Leonard, of Haltimore, in right-hand style, but nothing much could be learned from this, as the contest did not last but two short rounds and was stopped by the police. Probably the best line that can be had onin time city was his meeting with fully bistered in spots the pot lead or kequer Duke, of Enlimore, at Kernan's Lyceum with which the vesset's sides had been all the way, and allowed them only four then in the finest possible shape, while Daly afe hits.

Daly's record is a good one. He first where he won the 125-pound record of the A.A.U. This was in 1892, and he won the championship by defeating Mike Dee, Frank O'Neill and Frank Burns, all in three rounds each.

Since then he branched out as a professional and met and defeated a number of good men. Among them are Frank Stevens, of Columbus, S. C., whom he put out in four rounds, A. Allen, who quit in eight rounds, and Tommy Ward, whom he met at Atlanta, Ga and finished off in two rounds.

He then fought Jack Everhardt to a draw in three with bare knuckles. He demonstrated his gameness in this battle, which was red hot from start to finish. After this came a long list of victories.

He defeated Jack Barry in fourteen rounds with bare knuckles. Owen Hardy at New Orleans was finished off in nine rounds. At the Warren Athletic club in Wilmington, Del., he defeated Chick Lewis in six rounds, Jimmy Fox in six rounds, Joe Flynn in three rounds and Frank Bollen in five rounds.

One of his best battles was with Horace Leeds, whom he stood off for six rounds at Wilmington. He defeated Billy Dacey in one round and Mike Kenrney in ten. The latter fight took place on the turf with small gloves. In New Orleans be fought two battles, in which no decision was given. The first was with John Eckhart and lasted six rounds and lasted six rounds and the second was with Prof. Tom Gearhardt be fore the Olympic Club for four rounds. Billy Booly's record is also a good one. In San Francisco he defeated the following men: Paddy Galagher, Mike Fahey, Frank Gilbert, Young Corbett, W. H. Waller,

Tim Carter, Jimmy Kelley, Jack Atrix and Jack Mannix. He then went to Tucson, Arizona, and defeated Mike Sullivan, a heavy weight who was whipping everything in sight at that time. At San Antonio, Texas, he fought a six-round draw with Australian Billy Smith, which was probably the best "90" that be ever put up. In Dallas, Texas, he defeated Jimmy Bates in eight rounds and Johnny Maloney in fourteen rounds.
